

ONSTAGE

- Now headquartered at the Act 3 Playhouse in Sandy Springs.
- Shows that ask heartfelt questions and open up conversations about our lives, relationships, communities, and experiences.
- Plays and musicals for everyone - classics, modern works, and new plays.
- Nearly a dozen commissioned, brand-new plays and musicals added to the canon of American theatre.
- Every year, we employ upwards of 100 professional actors, dancers, designers, technicians, directors, music directors, choreographers, and musicians. Almost all of these artists are local to the Atlanta metro area.
- The longest-running professional theatre in the North Fulton area.
- Travel Teams serve more than 25,000 students a year all over greater metro Atlanta with Theatre for Young Audiences.
- Annual tour of And Then They Came for Me has reached over three quarters of a million Georgia students with powerful education about the Holocaust.

MEET THE INTERIM ARTISTIC DIRECTOR

Laurel Crowe joined the GET staff in 2009 and became Education Director in 2011. Over the past 13 years, she has led the Conservatory in educational outreach and the vision of a nurturing yet rigorous learning environment. As she guides GET through a transitional phase, she has planned this season with something for everyone. Crowe says she is “looking toward a future that bridges our diverse programming in ways we haven’t explored before.”

EDUCATION

- We serve nearly 300 individual students a year in our studio programs.
- Nearly a dozen classes each semester during the school year, serving kids, teens, & adults
- 3 auditioned performance ensembles.
- 8 summer camp experiences every year.
- In-school Residencies at The Cottage School in Roswell and others.
- In-class workshops help teachers engage their students in fresh ways.
- We employ over 25 teaching artists who are all working professionals in the fields of theatre and film.
- We never turn a student or school away due to financial need. Generous donors like you fund our scholarship program
- Proud education partners with Mount Vernon School Studios, The Cottage School, Roswell North Elementary, Pace Academy, & Fulton County Teaching Museum

COMMUNITY

- Our mission is to create connection between artists and audiences of all ages.
- Patrons come from not just metro Atlanta, but all over Georgia and beyond.
- We facilitate deeper engagement with talk-backs and sharing sessions for many shows.
- We welcome volunteers and partnerships!
- We partner with local civic organizations, schools, libraries, foundations, and arts organizations around our area.
- We look forward to building new communities!
